The right to be heard

Young people have the right to give their opinions and be listened to when decisions affect them

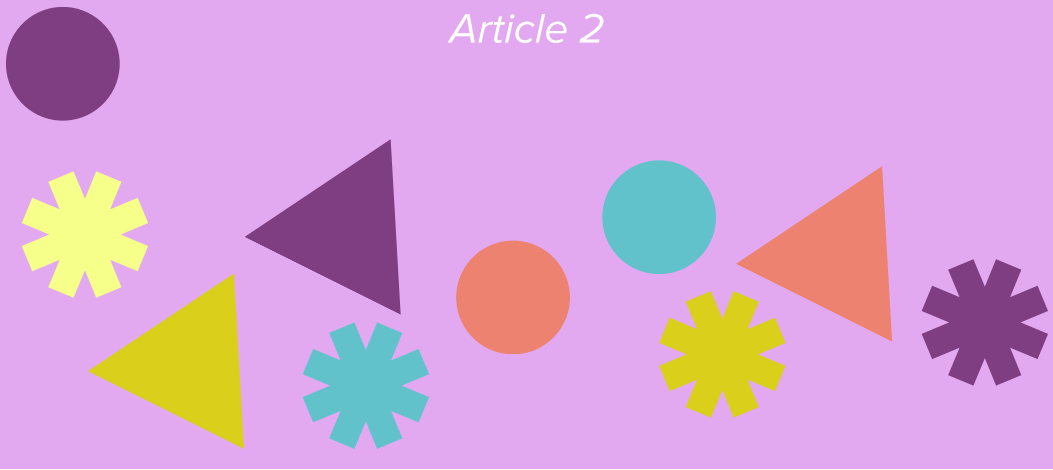

Article 12

The right to be treated fairly

Every child has rights, no matter their race, religion, gender, ability, or background.

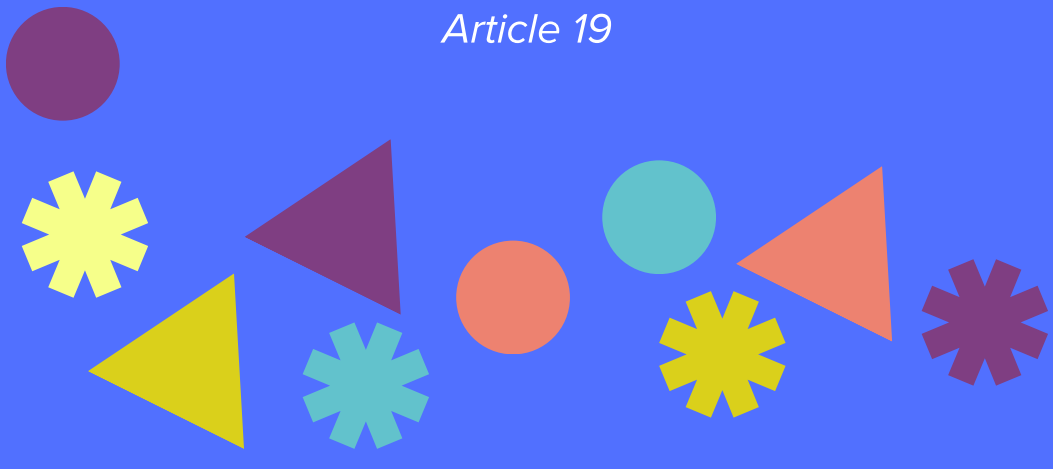

Article 2

The right to be safe

Young people have the right to be protected from harm, abuse, and neglect.

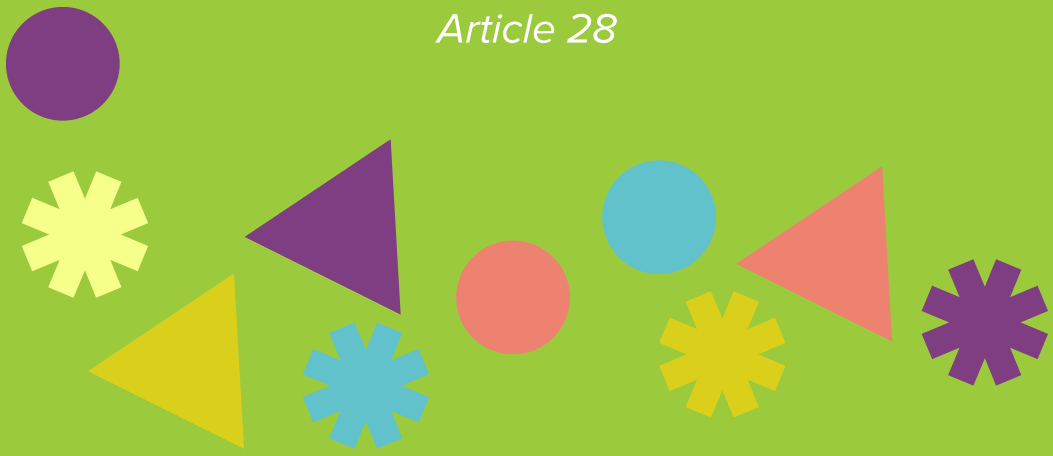

Article 19

The right to education

Every child has the right to go to school and learn.

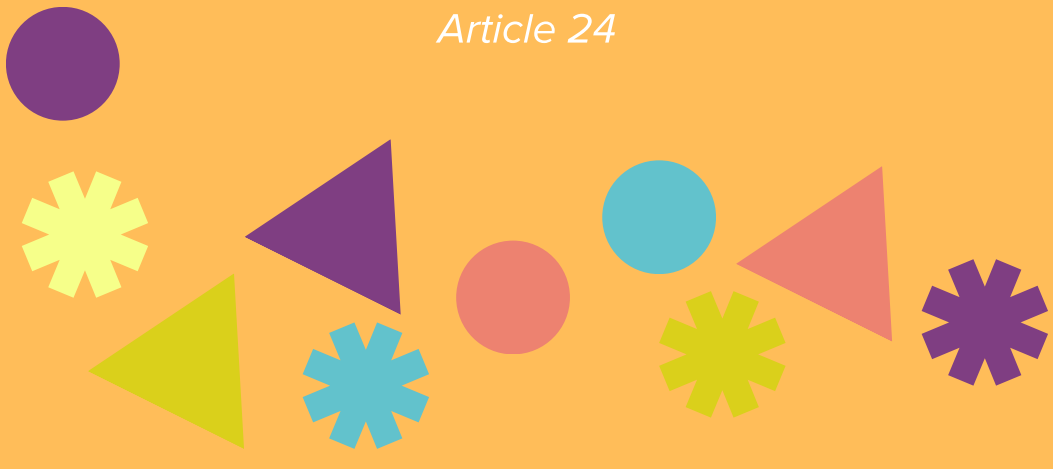

Article 28

The right to health

Young people have the right to healthcare and to grow up healthy.

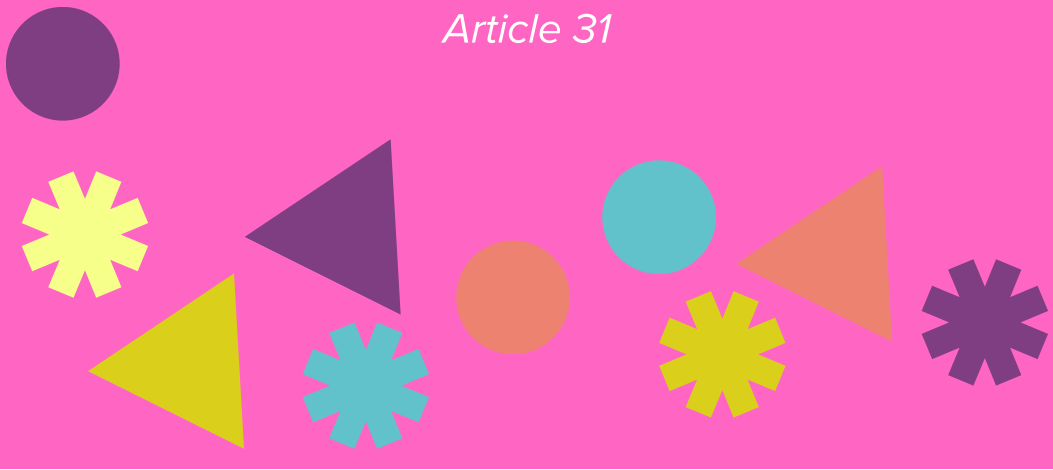

Article 24

The right to relax and play

Young people have the right to rest, play, and take part in fun activities.

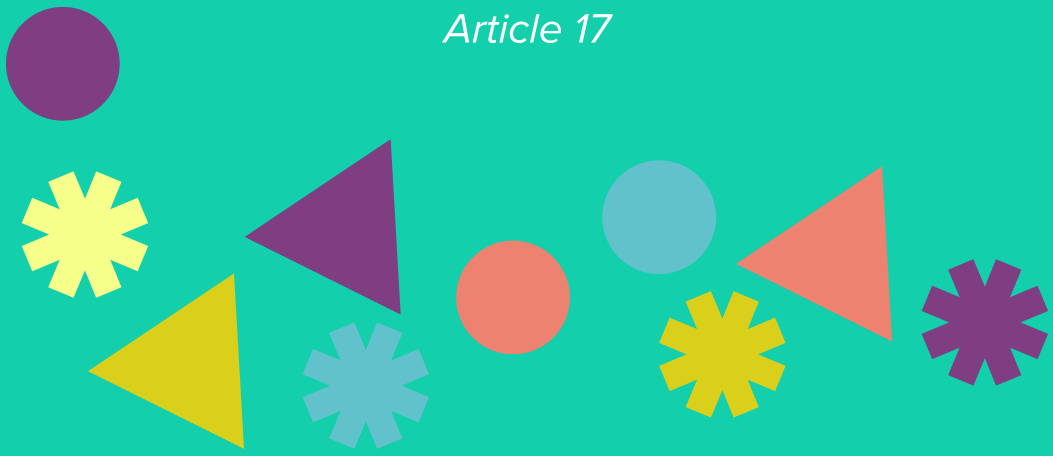

Article 31

The right to information

Young people have the right to get information that helps them learn and understand the world.

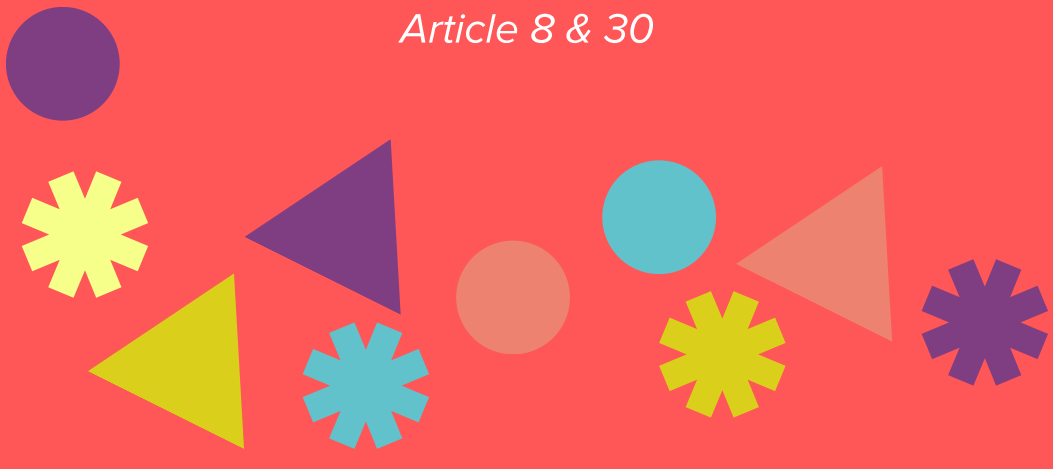

Article 17

The right to be who you are

Young people have the right to their own identity, culture, religion, and language.

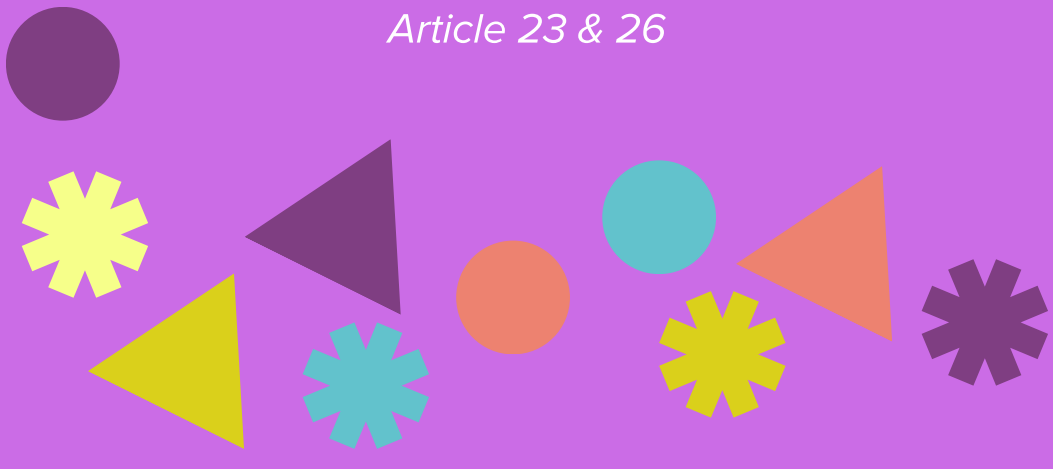

Article 8 & 30

The right to support if needed

Young people have the right to extra support if they have a disability or need help.

Article 23 & 26

The right to have their best interests put first

Adults must always do what is best for the child when making decisions.

Article 3

