

Men can’t be feminists

All feminists don’t think men are needed

All lesbians are feminists

All feminists are lesbians

There’s no need for feminism today

Feminists want to be men

Feminists want to be better than men

Feminists are angry

FALSE - Feminism is about equality between men and women so it's not just for women. In fact, there have been many men in history who have openly supported feminism.

FALSE - Feminism isn't about being anti-men it's about being anti-discrimination, anti-inequality etc towards women by men and women.

FALSE - One myth that often circulates around feminism is that all lesbians are feminists or that all feminists must be lesbians.

FALSE - Being a lesbian doesn't mean you believe in feminism or that you even know it exists, many lesbian and bisexual women understand the injustice that they face because of their sexual orientation and are made aware of women's oppression in general.

FALSE - At different times, feminism is more prominent than at other times. For example, around issues of contraception and voting, feminism was very much at the forefront.

FALSE - Feminists don't want to be men or better than men, they want to be acknowledged as equal to men in legislation, policy, payment, rights etc.

FALSE - Feminists don't want to be men or better than men, they want to be acknowledged as equal to men in legislation, policy, payment, rights etc.

FALSE - Some might be. Why do you think they are angry?
